'Ike Agrees To Meet With Southern Governors

Possible GI Withdrawal To Be Aired

McKeldin To Attend Conference Slated Early Next Week

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Sept. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower agreed today to meet with a committee of Southern governors probably early next week, to discuss possible withdrawal of federal troops from Little Rock, Ark.

Announcing that arrangements for such a meeting had been made with the White House, Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee said a committee of five chosen by the Southern Governors Conference "will be willing to talk about anything the President indicates he wants to discuss."

But Clement made it plain, in speaking to reporters, that the governors will be seeking primarily to work out some arrangement with Eisenhower to remove U. S. troops which have conducted Negro students into Little Rock's previously all-white Central High School.

"Gravely Concerned"

Clement, a member of the committee, said that regardless of their views on segregation the governors are "gravely concerned" about Eisenhower's action in federalizing the Arkansas National Guard and then sending in paratroopers.

Previously the governors had adopted by an 11-1 vote a resolution setting up the five-member committee and urging "the withdrawal of federal troops from Arkansas at the earliest possible moment." Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, retiring chairman of the conference, was named to head the group.

In Newport, R.I., where Eisenhower is vacationing, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower might want to expand the scope of the forthcoming conference to go into the school integration problems in general as well as the situation in Little Rock.

McKeldin On Committee

The governors elected Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, regarded as a moderate on integration, as their leader for the coming year. The nominating committee had favored Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, an ardent segregationist.

Over the objections of Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, the Southern Governors Conference acted in closed session to set up a five-man committee headed by Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina to seek meetings with Eisenhower and Faubus in an attempt to find a formula to end the Arkansas controversy over school integration.

Collins, elected to succeed Hodges as chairman of the conference, indicated the committee will ask for an immediate audience with Eisenhower. Besides Collins and Hodges, other members are Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, and Griffin. All are Democrats except McKeldin.

Arabia's King Saud Welcomed To Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, Sept. 25 (AP)—With Soviet-made jets roaring overhead in salute, Arabia's King Saud arrived today for a three-day visit. His apparent aim is to ease Mideast tension.

Syrians were hopeful that the visit would revive a Syrian-Saudi Arabian-Egyptian front.

Saud received a big welcome at Damascus Airport from top government and military officials, the diplomatic corps and a large crowd. Four Russian-built Mig jet fighters of the Syrian air force swept by at low levels.

Western Allies Hold Mideast Strategy Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 25 (AP)—The United States and Britain conferred with other friendly powers today on Soviet penetration of the Middle East. They sought in behind-the-scenes talks a common ground for action in the United Nations.

In the 82-nation General Assembly Australian Foreign Minister Richard Casey charged that the Soviet Union is flooding the Middle East with "vicious broadcast attacks" on Jordan, Lebanon, Iraq and Iran.

Casey challenged Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to explain "these deliberate and malicious attempts to interfere in the internal affairs of these Middle East countries."

"I would like to ask him how he squares this dangerous, subversive propaganda with his sponsorship of a resolution of 'peaceful coexistence,' calling upon us all to refrain from interference in each other's affairs any motives of an economic, political or ideological character."

Casey accused the Soviet Union of fishing in troubled waters at a time when the Middle East needs a period of calm for negotiations aimed at avoiding war.

"The rise of a Communist-dominated regime in Syria, and the remarks of the Soviet representative in this Assembly, are danger signals that the other countries of the Middle East, and indeed, the whole world, dare not ignore," Casey declared.

Western sources were wary of any detailed comment on the private negotiations on the Middle East. They denied that any resolution had been drawn up for presentation to the Assembly.

Collegian Admits Making Booby-Trapped Package

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 25 (AP)—A 20-year-old social science senior at Ball State Teachers College at Muncie, Ind., today admitted making a booby-trapped package that exploded and injured three coeds.

Lt. Robert Dillon, a field investigator for state police, said David Wayne Carter of New Castle told of making the device and addressing it to a coed he didn't know.

Dillon said Carter, who is employed by the Indiana Epileptic Village at New Castle when not in college, also said he couldn't give any motive for making the device—a shotgun breech mechanism that sprayed buckshot over three coeds as they opened the wooden package on the college campus last Friday.

ICBM Flight Ends In Huge Patch Of Fire

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla., Sept. 25 (AP)—The Atlas, an intercontinental ballistic missile was blasted from this base today and burst into flames two minutes later as it swerved out to sea.

The Air Force would say only that a missile was fired and it could not be learned whether the Atlas was destroyed intentionally or blew up.

The firing was strikingly similar to the first Atlas test shot last June 11 here. A missile then rose about 6,000 feet from this top secret base midway between Miami and Jacksonville, then was destroyed in the air.

Russia claimed several weeks ago to have fired an intercontinental ballistic missile but gave no details.

Explodes About Mile Up
Watchers on the beach seven miles south of the launching site today saw a tall, cone-shaped missile rise slowly, trailing brilliant orange and yellow flame. It climbed straight up for an estimated mile.

At that point two outside rockets fell off and it appeared for an instant that the fire-spitting missile might continue its journey, but it faltered, then burst into a gigantic red and yellow patch of fire. A heavy roar and dull explosion could be heard up and down the beach.

Before it was shot into the sky, the teed-up missile was almost obscured from view by mist.

Watch Began At Dawn

A score of reporters, augmented by 50 bathers, several bird watchers and a traveling evangelist, had waited since daybreak for the firing, attracted by rumors and activities at the launching site.

Light rain ceased shortly after noon and the overcast began to break up 20 minutes before the Atlas was set off.

The Atlas, reported to be 90 to 100 feet long, is the most advanced of two American entries in the Intercontinental Missile race. It has three rockets, mounted side by side. The two outside rockets lift the missile well off the ground, then drop away, leaving a powerful third rocket to drive it until it reaches maximum altitude of 600 to 800 miles, from which point it starts its downward glide.

Irish Envoy's Son Accidentally Shot And Killed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—The son of Irish Ambassador John J. Hearne was shot and killed today. Police said a pistol in the hands of a friend discharged accidentally.

The victim, John Justin Hearne, 20, died with a bullet in his chest. Police Capt. Albert Embrey said the pistol was fired by John E. Kieffer Jr., 22, in an office building where Kieffer's father operates the Universal Research & Consultants, Inc., a public relations firm.

Police quoted young Kieffer as saying the shooting occurred when he started to take the pistol from a drawer. Kieffer added, police said, that young Hearne also reached for the weapon and might have touched the trigger.

Mrs. Mel Reynolds, 20, Anderson, was injured seriously when the shot tore off the end of two fingers and smashed into her arms, neck and shoulders.

Injured less seriously were Miss Ruth Petry, 19, to whom the package was addressed, and Miss Linda Helvering, 18, both of Anderson. A college spokesman said "Carter, on occasion, was referred by faculty members for psychological counseling services."

"He was not allowed to pursue employment by the Indiana Epileptic Village at New Castle when not in college, also said he couldn't give any motive for making the device—a shotgun breech mechanism that sprayed buckshot over three coeds as they opened the wooden package on the college campus last Friday.

'Clean House' Order Handed To Teamsters

Reform Ultimatum Also Given Bakery Union By AFL-CIO

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—The AFL-CIO today handed two more of its scandal-plagued unions flat ultimatums to get rid of "corrupt influences" or face stiff reprisals from the parent labor organization—possibly even ouster.

The unions are the giant 1,300,000-member Teamsters organization, the nation's largest union, and the Bakery Workers Union with a membership of more than 138,000.

As in the case of the AFL-CIO Textile Workers Union yesterday, they were told to report on their cleanups within 30 days. If they don't undertake the reforms, it was indicated, the AFL-CIO might even boot them out.

Reports Due Oct. 24

The 29-member AFL-CIO Executive Council, top governing body of the merged labor organizations, directed the unions to unseat and bar any officer responsible for corruption.

The council said it would meet again Oct. 24, for the unions to make reports on what they have done. They were, however, assured of more time for the cleanup if they report progress and request additional time.

At a news conference, AFL-CIO President George Meany declined to give names of any union officers who might be affected by the Council's order.

Nevertheless, identities of some at least were made clear by reports of the AFL-CIO's Ethical Practices Committee, on which the Council based its ultimatums.

Slap At Beck, Hoffa

They are retiring Teamsters President Dave Beck; Vice President James R. Hoffa, now waging a last-ditch campaign for Beck's job, and two other vice presidents—Frank W. Brewster of Seattle and Sidney L. Brennan of Minneapolis.

Singled out in the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union, were International President James G. Cross and a recently resigned vice president, George Start.

Hoffa Charged With Perjury

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—James R. Hoffa was hit by a double-barreled thrust today—a new criminal indictment and a jab by the AFL-CIO—as he readied his bid for top power in the big Teamsters Union.

A federal racketeer grand jury charged him with perjury, and an AFL-CIO Executive Council accused him of "improper activities" and ordered a clean-up in the union.

The perjury indictment was the second federal case launched against Hoffa here, concerning an alleged conspiracy by him and others to wiretap union headquarters telephones in Detroit, seat of his home local.

Hoffa, the short, dapper vice president of the 1,300,000 member Teamsters Union, now is in Miami preparing for the union's convention next week, at which he is seeking its presidency.

He aspires to succeed Dave Beck, who announced plans to retire this year following the furor over a Senate committee probe of alleged corruption in the union.

Hoffa also has been a target of charges by the committee, which claims delegates from some locals have been improperly picked in an attempt to rig the election.

The grand jury, naming Hoffa on five counts of perjury, said he lied to the jury in its investigation of the alleged Detroit wiretapping.

CAB Cancels Fare Boost By Airlines

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board formally canceled today the 6 per cent domestic fare increase proposed by seven of the 12 trunk airlines.

The cancellation becomes effective by next Friday, the date the airlines had proposed to put the fare increase into effect.

The CAB said a 6 per cent fare increase for all domestic trunk airlines would cost the traveling public an additional 67 million dollars yearly in fares.

4 U.S. Planes Vanish During NATO Exercise

LONDON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Four U.S. Navy planes disappeared during NATO exercises today and Navy officials said later that all 10 fliers aboard were presumed killed in two collisions.

Two bodies were recovered by searching warships.

The NATO sea maneuvers, which were being carried out with wartime realism, were suspended immediately after the four planes disappeared in early morning darkness.

Carriers and cruisers of the seven-nation fleet, operating between Iceland and Norway, carried out a day-long search.

Two pilots were presumed killed in a collision over the North Atlantic of two F4D Sky Ray jet fighter planes from the U.S. carrier Saratoga.

The other two aircraft, S2F Sentinel Trackers each carrying two officers and two enlisted men, collided later only five miles from the scene of the first crash. Both Trackers were from the carrier Essex.

Names of the 10 men were not announced.

Rear Adm. Murr E. Arnold, commander of the carrier striking fleet, said the weather was ideal for flying and was not a contributory factor in the collisions.

The carriers were part of a seven-nation NATO force of 100 warships and 700 aircraft taking part in the exercises between Iceland and Norway under the code name of "Strikeback." The maneuvers are designed to test ocean defenses against Russian attack, especially by submarines.

Boy Drowns In Pond

FAWN GROVE, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP)—A 17-year-old Baltimore boy drowned today in an irrigation pond at this York County community near the Maryland line.

The body of Charles Moore, a Negro, was recovered from about 14 feet of water.

Union Funds Spent To Defend Hoffa's Aides, Probe Told

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Senate investigators were told today that Teamster locals under James R. Hoffa spent $170,000 in union dues to defend Hoffa men against criminal charges or support their wives while they were in prison.

The figures, covering the last three years, were laid before the Senate Rackets Committee by Carmine S. Bellino, its auditor-investigator.

Hoffa is the Midwest boss of the Teamsters who aspires to become president of the union at an election scheduled for Miami Beach, Fla., next week. He was indicted in New York today on perjury charges growing out of another investigation of his union.

A surprise witness before the senators today swore he once overheard a conversation mentioning 1½ thousand-dollar "pay-offs" to Hoffa "either two or three times a year" by the Detroit Restaurant Guild.

John Leyhan testified he heard snatches of the conversation at a dinner given by the Michigan Restaurant Assn. He was uncertain about the year. Leyhan is secretary-treasurer of the Greenfield Mills Restaurant Co., a member of the Guild.

Bellino testified that Teamsters Union records show that more than $85,000 was paid to the wives of four officials of Local 614 at Pontiac, Mich., who were jailed on extortion charges.

Another member of the committee's staff, Asst. Counsel Jerome S. Adlerman, had testified earlier that Hoffa approved spending about $50,000 to defend one of his Minneapolis agents against bombing and extortion charges.

At least $30,000 more, Bellino reported, was donated from union dues as a defense fund for the four Pontiac men. Bellino identified them as Daniel J. Keating, former president of the local; Louis C. Linteauf, former record secretary; Samuel Marraso and Michael Necholetti, former business agents.

Cross-Country Missile Flight Tests Started

ALAMOGORDO, N.M., Sept. 25 (AP)—The Air Force announced today for the first time today it started cross-country flight tests of its Matador surface-to-surface missile, outside of the testing range.

The Air Force missile development center here said the missile is being launched from a relatively isolated test range here and flown to Wendover Air Force Base, Utah.

The missile, an intermediate range weapon, flies in a controlled corridor, the center said, to a selected impact location some 575 nautical miles from the launching point.

Two planes escort the missile on the test flights.

Little Rock Press Says Ike Justified

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 25 (AP)—Both of Little Rock's daily newspapers, the morning Arkansas Gazette and the afternoon Arkansas Democrat, said editorially today that President Eisenhower was justified in using federal troops in Little Rock's school integration problem.

"In one sense we rolled back our history to the Reconstruction Era when federal troops moved into position at Central High School to uphold the law and preserve the peace," the Gazette said.

14th Amendment Cited By Gen. Walker At Little Rock Is Controversial Subject

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—among other things: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Gen. Walker, in his talk to pupils of Little Rock Central High School, recalled that the Supreme Court had ruled that school segregation laws were contrary to the 14th Amendment and hence invalid.

Regarding the history of the amendment, Prof. William Anderson of the University of Minnesota, in his "American Government" wrote: "The Civil War amendments (XIII, XIV, XV) enlarging national power and putting further restrictions on the states, had to be forced through the states by very doubtful methods.

"In fact they probably would not all have been adopted if the Southern states had been allowed a free expression of their choices. Everything depended in those cases on what 'states' were recognized by the government at Washington, and what 'governments' were recognized in those states.

In the decade following the Civil War, the Southern states were ruled by what the Encyclopedia Britannica calls "carpetbag governments, conducted often by unprincipled politicians from the North."

Further, many white Southerners were deprived of the right to vote.

U.S. Soldiers Are Relieved By Ark. Guard

Negroes Escorted To, From Classes; Two Civilians Hurt

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 25 (AP)—Crack paratroopers with fixed bayonets today held back crowds of white persons at Central High School and escorted nine Negro students in and out of the integration-racked building.

More than 450 white troops of the 101st Airborne Division ringed the sprawling, buff-brick school throughout the day but were relieved tonight by units of the Arkansas National Guard, now in federal service.

However, the regulars remained in bivouac behind the school, and an Army spokesman said there were no plans to relieve the airborne troops permanently.

One white civilian was clubbed with a rifle butt and another man suffered a bayonet cut on the arm as the paratroopers broke up clusters of sullen spectators.

About 1,200 white students—out of an enrollment of 2,000—had entered Central High—and classes had already started when an Army station wagon brought the Negro students—three boys and six girls—to the campus at 9:20 a.m.

A detachment of paratroopers, about 20 strong, surrounded the Negroes as they got out of the vehicle. The students and soldiers marched up the front steps and went inside quickly.

Inside, soldiers in full battle dress guarded doors to the classrooms in which the Negroes studied.

They marched alongside each Negro pupil through corridors when classes changed.

Nine Escorted From School

At about 3:30 p.m. the nine were escorted by about a dozen soldiers to the same Army station wagon parked at a side entrance and were driven away. An Army spokesman said use of the side entrance had no significance—it simply was convenient.

The evidence of massive force was everywhere around the school. Jeeps patrolled in and out among the soldiers.

A helicopter hovered over the scene during the morning, spotting clusters of whites and radioing their location to ground troops.

Soldiers, in tight, military formations, double-timed with bayonets at port arms position to investigate trouble spots.

Their bayonets flashed forward to point at knots of white and forced them back.

One man tried to grab or brush aside a blade. He was clubbed to the ground and rose with blood streaming down his face.

Another didn't move fast enough. He was slashed on the arm by a bayonet.

No Reports Of Race Violence

By noon the determined troops had the area clear of whites except those with identification.

When classes ended, small groups of whites were in the area but a considerable distance from the school.

Tonight, all appeared quiet in Little Rock.

Col. Tom Matthews of the Arkansas military district said no jeep patrols were operating in the city. Paratroopers remained at the school.

No rallies were scheduled and police had no reports of violence between Negroes and whites.

Matthews said the homes of the nine Negro students were not guarded by the Army. And city police said they had no guards posted.

Gov. Orval Faubus, who earlier used National Guardsmen to stop integration at the school, broke silence for the first time since federal troops were flown here to say that "Naked force (is) being employed by the federal government against the people of my state."

He refused to comment further, but announced a radio and television speech for tomorrow night.

Russia Broadcasts Little Rock 'Drama' To Its Schoolrooms

LONDON, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Russians built a somewhat fictional radio drama around a real-life Negro schoolgirl of Little Rock and broadcast it today to schoolrooms in the Soviet Union.

This was the sort of exploitation President Eisenhower has said can be expected from gloating enemies of the United States.

Moscow radio seldom, if ever, had a better ready-made pattern to exploit its constant theme of Communist paradise vs. capitalist jungle.

The Soviet radio told Russian listeners that lawless mobs have taken over in Little Rock.

Soviet school children were given a special program on the events which, the radio said, "have sent a shudder through all honest people in the world over."

The program was a dramatized account of racial violence terrorizing a Negro school girl named Elizabeth Eckford (the real name of one of the Little Rock nine) trying to get into a desegregated school at Little Rock.

A Russian actor took the leading part in the drama. He said Elizabeth got her first shock while walking to school.

"She stopped in fright, dropped her satchel with her books and felt her hair stand on end," the radio said. "A corpse hanging from a lamp post swung to and fro in the wind."

"On its chest was a board with the inscription: 'This will happen to all who dare to sit on a school bench next to a white person.'"

"No, it's a dummy and not a corpse . . . and the girl heaved a sigh of relief."

"They might do the same to me," reflected Elizabeth. "No, come what may, I'll carry on."

Negroes Harassed Despite Police Detail

LEVITTOWN, Pa., Sept. 25 (AP)—The only Negro family in this suburban Philadelphia community of 60,000 was the target of further harassment today despite a round-the-clock State Police detail.

Before dawn, police discovered the letters "K K K" smeared in red paint on the wall of the home adjoining that of Mr. and Mrs. William Myers Jr. The Myers' home was the scene of disturbances after the family moved in last August.

And on the lawn of Myers home, a Negro, was a large anti-integration poster which depicted a white woman kneeling in fear before a tall Negro man. Beneath the poster, scrawled in red crayon, were the words: "We are watching your every move."

NEGRO STUDENTS LEAVE SCHOOL—Nine Negro students are shown leaving Central High School, Little Rock, Ark., at the conclusion of classes yesterday afternoon. They are being escorted from a side door by paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division. The Negroes thus completed their first full day of classes at the school, a feat requiring the action of President Eisenhower and armed forces of the United States. (AP Photofax)

Grove Lime Co. Strike Settled

FREDERICK, Sept. 25 (AP)—The three-week strike against three plants of the M. J. Grove Lime Co. came to an end today.

Union and management reached agreement on a new one-year contract calling for a 6 per cent wage increase and other benefits. The contract will run for one year starting tomorrow, when the workers are due back on the job.

The contract was ratified late today at a meeting of Local 81 of the Stone and Allied Products Workers.

The company announced that the workers will receive the same economic benefits which were offered them prior to the strike Sept. 4. The union had sought a 10 per cent wage boost.

In addition to the wage hike, the new contract calls for a three week of vacation for employees with 15 or more years service, individual wage increases for seven classes of employees and increased insurance, sick and hospital benefits.

The company said it would be able to resume immediate shipments of its products. The largest construction materials company in Frederick County, the firm has plants in Frederick, Thurmont and Limekiln.

McNeil was convicted of understating his income by $10,541 for 1951 through 1953. A Risley Ensor, defense counsel, requested medical examination of McNeil before sentence is imposed.

Roberts Challenges Fla. Officials To Indict Him

TOWSON, Md., Sept. 25 (AP)—James T. Roberts today challenged Florida authorities to indict him "if you have enough evidence" in the 1954 kidnap-murder of his 7-year-old daughter.

"If you boys feel you have enough at any time to indict me, please go ahead and do it, and let the case come to trial this time," Roberts said.

Roberts made the statement in the presence of Florida investigators and newsmen after he had been interrogated 1 hour, 15 minutes on the third and last day of the renewed investigation here.

State Atty. Richard Gerstein of Dade County, Florida, said he and his probers would leave tomorrow for Miami where they still have "some loose ends to tie up."

Roberts' daughter, Judith Ann, was visiting her grandparents in Miami when taken from her bed the night of July 6, 1954. Her mutilated body was found next morning in underbrush along Biscayne Bay.

Roberts, a Dundalk lawyer, was indicted for the murder in September of that year, but the charges were dropped three months later by the then state attorney in Miami.

It was to this action Roberts referred in urging that the case be brought to trial if a second indictment is brought against him.

"I feel that it was the most unfair thing that has ever been done to me," Roberts said of the earlier action. "I think it was completely unfair to me not to let me try that case at the time they brought it . . . but if they ever indict me, for God's sake let's try it. Let's not get it out and not prosecute it."

Beacon Blacked Out In Interest Of Birds

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—A beacon near the top of the Empire State building will be kept turned off until Nov. 1 so as not to interfere with the migration of birds.

The building management said today the light had been blacked out for the period in agreement with the National Audubon Society because it confuses birds when they have to fly at low levels in cloudy weather.

Many birds in the past, thrown off course by the light, have crashed into the building.

Ark. Guard On Federal Payroll

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—The Defense Department said today that Arkansas National Guardsmen, called into federal service by presidential order yesterday, will be paid from federal funds disbursed through the Army.

The Pentagon was unable to estimate how much additional cost will be involved, but spokesmen said all members of the Arkansas Guard will draw pay from the time the call was made official. That time was established by Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker as 2:25 p.m. yesterday, the moment Secretary of Defense Wilson signed the document.

Maj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, Arkansas National Guard commander estimated the cost at $100,000 a day.

The Defense Department said it does not know at this time which agency or special fund of the executive department will be tapped to defray the cost of federalizing the Arkansas Guard. The Army is understandably loathe to have the money come out of its already reduced share of the defense budget.

John Roosevelt Seen Contender In N.Y. GOP Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—The New York World-Telegram & Sun said today that John Roosevelt, Republican son of the late Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt, will seek the GOP gubernatorial nomination next year.

Roosevelt has been an active supporter of President Eisenhower.

The newspaper report said he has "quietly but firmly put Republican leaders on notice that he will be a contender—at least a dark-horse possibility—for the top spot" on the party's 1958 state ticket.

Mt. Etna Erupts

CATANIA, Sicily, Sept. 25 (AP)—Mt. Etna, Europe's tallest volcano, spouted molten rock 900 feet into the air today. Its crater, several hundred feet down the northeast slope from the snow-capped central cone, became active recently.

The first inauguration of a United States President was in New York.

Balloon-Borne Camera Takes Photos Of Sun

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 25 (AP)—An aerial telescope-camera containing what is expected to be the most clearly defined film of the sun ever recorded was recovered late today after it rode a cargo parachute down from 81,000 feet in the stratosphere.

The camera was launched in the gondola of a giant plastic balloon from University of Minnesota Airport near New Brighton, about five miles north of here, at 7:15 a.m. It drifted at its 81,000-foot level for about four hours.

A timing device then cut the gondola from the balloon and it floated to earth. The gondola and instruments were recovered eight miles west of Athens, in north-central Wisconsin, at a point about 150 miles east of here, and in the area project meteorologists had predicted it would land. The instruments were trucked to Minneapolis.

The flight, labeled "Project Stratoscope," was a joint effort of the Office of Naval Research, General Mills Inc., Minneapolis, Princeton University and the University of Colorado. Project chief is Dr. Martin Schwarzschild, Princeton astronomer.

Purpose of the flight was to obtain photos of the sun that would be unobstructed by the haze of the earth's atmosphere. At the balloon's maximum altitude of 15½ miles, the camera was free of 95 per cent of the earth's atmosphere and was expected to record pictures with a crystal clarity never before obtained.

A delicate device sensitive to Omar Khayyam, the Persian poet, was also known as an astronomer and for his revision of the calendar in the Eleventh century.

Carroll County Road Projects Approved

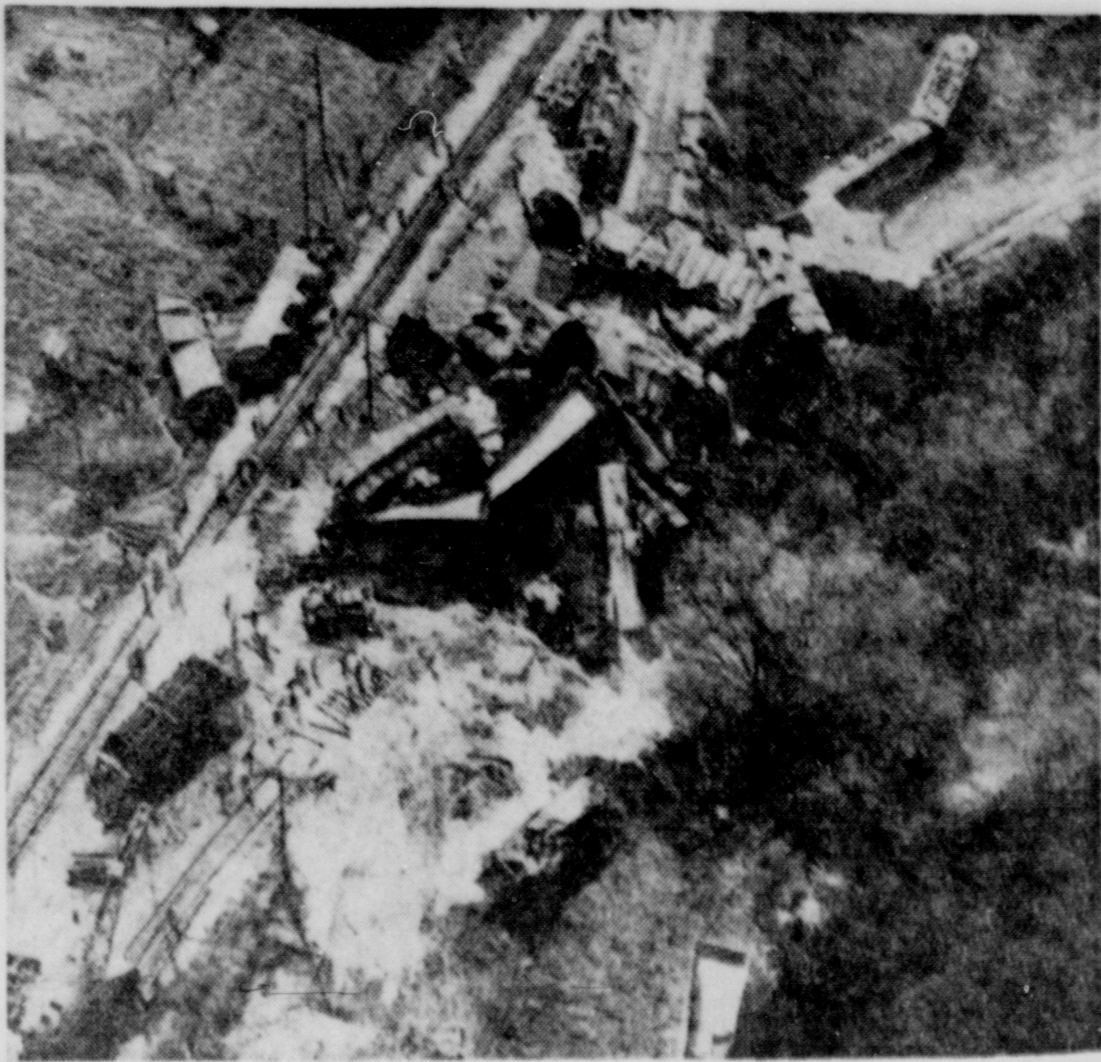

WESTMINSTER, Md., Sept. 25 (AP)—Construction of three new roads in the rich Carroll County farm lands was approved today by the State Roads Commission.

The roads will be built under the federal highway aid program with the federal and county governments splitting the cost on a 50-50 basis.

The commission acts as intermediary in such projects.

The projects—the Wakefield Valley, Marston and Fleming-Bradford roads—will cost a total of $72,000. They will use up $36,000 of the county's allocation of $90,000 in federal aid funds.

Work will begin shortly. Grading will be done by the county and the remainder of work by the State.

Doctor Tried On Dope Charges Put On Probation

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25 (AP)—A man had given information to young doctor and his wife who were tried on narcotics charges were put on probation without verdict today.

Criminal Court Judge Anselm Sodaro said the doctor had undergone treatment and had been approved for appointment to the staff of Crownsville State Hospital.

Charles Mindel, attorney for the couple, said Dr. Wilbur A. Hamman Jr., 29, had cured himself of the drug habit and that his wife, Betty, was never an addict although she had used drugs with her husband.

Judge Sodaro said a detailed investigation had been made and ruled there was no public benefit to be derived from punishing either of the defendants.

He disposed of the cases by entering "probation before verdict" on condition of good behavior and that Hamman refrain from use of narcotics.

Judge Sodaro said the doctor began using narcotics under strain of medical studies and because of migraine headaches and eventually became addicted.

Dr. Hamman was a psychiatrist at University Hospital when the narcotics charges were brought against him and his wife last April 22. Hamman is a graduate of Occidental College in California and of the University of Chicago medical school.

Capt. Joseph Carroll of the narcotics squad testified at the August trial that a physician who had prescribed narcotics for Ham-

Judge Sodaro said the psychiatrist had undergone extended treatment at the Phipps Clinic of Johns Hopkins Hospital and had been approved for appointment to Crownsville by Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher, chief medical officer of the Supreme Bench, and by Dr. John C. Whitehorn, of Phipps Clinic.

Boy Sentenced In Slaying Case

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25 (AP)—A 17-year-old boy who shot his stepfather to death because, he said, he was trying to protect his mother was sentenced to not more than three years in the State Reformatory in Youth Court today.

The youth, Joseph Preston Coffin, was found guilty of manslaughter by Chief Judge Emory H. Niles. He was acquitted of a murder charge.

Coffin admitted firing three or four rifle shots into the head of Thomas Novak, his 28-year-old stepfather. But he told the court he did it when Novak began hitting his mother during an argument.

Judge Niles ruled that Coffin had used "excessive force" in the action he took.

Possible Danger

STUTTGART, Germany, Sept. 25 (AP)—A report of the third International Convention on Nutrition warns against excessive use of pest control materials on food plants. Some 100 chemical substances can be found in residual traces in human food, it said, and regular use of such food "could have far-reaching and dangerous effect which are thus far unknown to the manufacturers and public officials."

Mrs. Georgia J. Perrouault, 48, of Washington, was killed when her car, left Maryland 235 south of Hillside, St. Mary's County, struck a pole and overturned.

A passenger, Mary Catherine Gray, 42, was hospitalized with nose and right thigh injuries.

Escapee Asks To Be Let Back In Penitentiary

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25 (AP)—A prisoner who fled a penitentiary work detail was back behind bars today. He surrendered voluntarily, saying he felt safer inside.

Elmer Trusty, 26-year-old Negro, disappeared Monday while on a work detail at the 5th Regiment Armory. Last night he ran the bell at the main door of the penitentary and asked to be let in. The guards obliged. Trusty said he was afraid he might be shot by a policeman.

Jesse C. Hood, 33, Negro, who disappeared with Trusty, is still missing.

He added, however, that the ailment cannot be designated as Asian flu until tests are completed.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

By LOUELLA FARNSON

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25 (INS)—Daring, explosive and earth-shattering are a few of the descriptive adjectives used to describe "End of the World," a motion picture Sol C. Siegel and Harry Belafonte are making for Harbel Productions. Belafonte will be starred. The script is now being written by Ronald MacDougall who is also pencilled in as director.

The title, I suppose, is self-explanatory. It's set in the year 1962, and I am told the picture will show the highly realistic fashion of what happens to survivors of a cataclysmic event that rocks the world.

Two other top stars, a man and woman, will be added to the cast, and Belafonte will sing, although this will certainly not be a musical. Sol hopes to get this before the cameras in November, and I would say he'll have to work hard to get it ready.

Although not as much is known about Lisa Gaye as about her sister, Debra Paget, Lisa's very attractive young lady and also an actress of talent. You'll know more about her later after you see her in "Zorro," a series Walt Disney is presenting in 39 half-hour programs starting Oct. 10.

Lisa isn't a newcomer to TV or motion picture screens by any means. She played the French girl, Colette, in Bob Cummings TV show, and appeared with Dean Martin and Anna Maria Alberghetti in "10,000 Bedrooms."

She was personally selected by Walt to portray the role of Constanza, daughter of the Spanish viceroy, in the "Zorro" series.

Rita Hayworth and Jim Hill were at the Slate Brothers restaurant a few nights ago to see Don Rickles, but not just for the laughs. Don has been signed to his first motion picture by Hecht-Hill-Lancaster.

If he's as funny on the screen as he is off screen he'll be a riot. He'll be seen as a quartermaster aboard a submarine with Burt Lancaster and Clark Gable in "Run Silent, Run Deep" (Yes, it's back to it's old title).

This means quite a juggling of time on Don's part, as he isn't able to go to bed until 3:30 every morning, and he has to be on the set at 8:30 a. m.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The $100,000 I reported 20th paid for Mike Romanoff's life story is true. I saw the contract. The $10,000 is paid down, and the remaining $90,000 when the script is completed.

After 20 years of marriage and seven children, David Hopkins was baptized in the faith of his wife, Cherry, on their wedding anniversary. He'll be confirmed by Cardinal Spellman in New York Friday.

Mike Todd and his Liz arrive in Hollywood Friday — Mike to do the Eddie Fisher show.

On the subject of Eddie, he has received permission from Rodgers and Hammerstein to sing the famous "Soliloquy" from "Carousel," which will take six minutes on his TV show. It's the song about a father's hopes for his expected child. Very appropriate.

A sure sign that Sal Mineo has arrived. Arthur Murray has named a new cha-cha-cha for him — and Sal's the boy who can do it. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Four Men Named To Top Posts At Kelly Plant

Growth of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here has necessitated a re-alignment of Kelly executive personnel effective October 1, according to Edmund S. Burke, president.

George B. Newman has been appointed executive vice president. Newman joined Kelly-Springfield in 1954 as assistant to the president. He was promoted to vice president in May, 1955, where he served until his present promotion. He joined the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Inc., in 1928 and served in numerous sales and executive capacities before joining Kelly. Mr. and Mrs. Newman reside at 646 Washington Street.

Marion T. Powers was appointed vice president—sales in July 1954, and will continue in this capacity. He was a sales executive of the Chrysler Corporation for many years and joined Kelly-Springfield as field sales manager in 1944. Mr. and Mrs. Powers reside at 649 Washington Street.

Arthur A. Verner has been appointed vice president—export sales. Verner joined Kelly-Springfield on May 20, 1946, as export sales manager. Prior to that he was head of the Economics Department of Georgetown University. During World War II he rose to rank of commander in the Navy. Mr. and Mrs. Verner reside at 112 Washington Street.

James C. Warden has been appointed vice president—manufacturing. Warden entered Kelly-Springfield on July 1, 1937, as general superintendent. Prior to joining Kelly he had been a member of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and has had wide experience in rubber manufacturing. Mr. and Mrs. Warden reside at 717 Washington Street. In addition to these four vice presidents, Burke announced that Kelly executive personnel will continue to be comprised of William H. Walker, treasurer; Joseph O. Mello, assistant treasurer; William M. Diedrich, comptroller; and Howard F. Radcliffe, assistant comptroller.

Winners Listed For Boy Scout Archery Event

Winners of the archery and rifle meet held at Camp Potomac, the camping area for Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, have been announced by Ross Decker, council camping and activities chairman.

Appeal Is Filed On SIAC Decision

An appeal from a decision by the State Industrial Accident Commission in awarding a local painter total disability payments totaling $15,000 has been filed in Circuit Court by the employer and insurer of the claimant.

Norman S. Porter, the employer, and the Royal Indemnity Company, insurer, have appealed from the award to Patrick E. Shertzer, RD 6, city. Shertzer, who was represented by Clarence Lippel and Simon F. Reilly, attorneys, received the award a few weeks ago. He was painting a house in the South End section in November of 1955 when he fell and suffered a back injury. He was first awarded temporary total disability payments of $35 per week.

In the rifle meet a total of 52 and place went to Troop 1 with 349 points and third honors were awarded to Troop 9 with 237 markers.

First place honors went to Explorer Post 10 of LaVale Methodist Church with 347 points. Troop 9 of Cresaptown Methodist Church finished second with 238 points, while Troop 8 of St. Mary's Catholic Church, won third-place with 229 points.

Other troops participating included Troop 1 of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Fountain EUB Church of Keyser and Troop 30, sponsored by the Piedmont Rotary Club.

High scorers were Ronald Gilchrist and Richard Tosh with 89 points each, David Stone, 87, and Lynn DeHart, 82. All are members of Explorer Post 10.

The rifle matches were conducted by Merle Shumaker, J. T. Guthridge, Joseph Graham, all of Cumberland, and Peter Traser of Keyser.

The archery events were conducted by Kenneth Babcock of Frostburg State Teachers College, assisted by Delbert Leese and Ernest Painter.

First-place honors in the archery contest were won by Explorer Post 10 with 751 points. Second place went to Troop 1 with 349 points and third honors were awarded to Troop 9 with 237 markers.

City Is High In Consumer Expenditures

A report by the U. S. Census of Business shows that last year the personal consumer expenditures in Cumberland totaled $71,009,000, with $65,409,000 being for goods purchased in retail stores. The balance of $5,600,000 was for outlays for various other kinds of services.

Cumberland has been contributing more than its share to the business activity of the country. The evidence can be seen from the part it played in achieving last year's record-breaking gross national product.

Specifically, with .0229 per cent of the national population, Cumberland consumed .0310 per cent of the nation's output of goods and services. It went for everything from clothes, furniture, food and movies to beauty care and vacations.

The gross national product, generally recognized as the most important index of the state of the economy, represents the total value of all goods and services produced. This output, which was more than $412 billion in the year includes industrial outlays for plant expansion as well as foreign aid, military, welfare and various other kinds of government and private disbursements.

But the backbone of it all is personal consumer spending for goods and services. This accounted for 64 per cent of the total, or $265 billion, according to reports from the U. S. Department of Commerce and other sources. It was three times what it cost to run the state, local and federal governments.

Nationally, an even greater consumer market is in the making, in the opinion of most economists. Not necessarily this year or next year. But from a long range viewpoint, they declare, such growth is inevitable.

Mrs. Roberts Honored On Birthday

Mrs. Howard Willison entertained in honor of her mother, Mrs. Agnes Roberts, celebrating her 88th birthday, yesterday at her home, Flintstone.

The former Miss Agnes Collins of Artemas, Pa., became the bride of Elias J. Roberts (who died about 10 years ago) in March, 1889. She is the mother of one child, and has three grandchildren, Mrs. Helen Ruby, Cumberland; Miss Anna Willison, Flintstone; and Miss Frances Willison, Washington. She is the only survivor of her immediate family, having one sister and seven brothers deceased.

Until last summer when she was ill, Mrs. Roberts' hobby was making rugs. She still enjoys reasonably good health, gets around the house and is even able to hoe her flowers occasionally.

Flowers and the birthday cake, annually baked and decorated by Mrs. Emory Hoover, decorated the table.

Guests were Mrs. Jennie Ash, 51 years old; Mrs. Della Browning, who will be 88 next month; and Mrs. Nora Wigfield, 79. Life-long friends, they spent the afternoon reminiscing.

Guild To Be Entertained On Sunday

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Centre Street Methodist Church will be guests of Miss Gerardine Pritchard and Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard at their home in Park Heights, for a tea from 2 until 4 Sunday.

Miss Eloise Gurley, immediate past president, will preside at the tea table. The fall motif is being used in the table decorations.

The Guild yearbook will be presented by the hostesses. The blue and gold Guild colors have been used for the cover, with the emblem the dominant feature. A gold circle surrounds the Christian flag, the torch and cross, superimposed upon a triangle, in which the three points indicate the initials of the guild. Its symbolism is brotherhood, service and Christian Internationalism, with "the unending circle of love of the Holy Trinity."

Kingsley Church To Mark Anniversary

The 75th anniversary of Kingsley Methodist Church will be observed from Sunday, October 6, through Sunday, October 13.

On the first day at 11 a. m. the observance will get under way with World-wide Communion. At 7:30 p. m. Rev. Kiri A. Kester, a former pastor, will speak.

Wednesday, October 9, is designated as church family night. The speaker will be Rev. William W. Patterson, former Kingsley pastor and now minister at La Vale Methodist Church. After the service, a birthday cake will be served in the church social room.

Friday, October 11, at 7:30 p. m. will be Community Night with Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church as speaker.

Sunday, October 13, the 11 a. m. service will have Dr. Paul F. Warner, superintendent of the Hagerstown District of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church, as speaker.

Rev. Bruce Price, pastor of Park Place Methodist Church, will speak at 7:30 p. m. The young people of Kingsley church will have charge of the service.

Music has been arranged for each event.

The committee in charge of arrangements is Mrs. James H. Reynolds Sr., chairman; Mrs. Charles A. Wigal, Mrs. Lloyd H. Wood, Mrs. Isaac J. Smith, Mrs. Jacob H. Snyder, Mrs. William R. Snyder, Mrs. Jacob S. Minke, Rev. J. N. Snyder, the pastor, C. B. Perdue, L. E. Adams and William Hiser.

The church on Williams Street was an outgrowth of a chapel built in 1870 at the corner of Gay and Oldtown Road.

That was constructed through the efforts of three members of Centre Street Church, S. T. Little, Samuel Millford and John Killenbeck. Their aim was to locate the city's second Methodist Church in the South End area.

In 1882, a building committee was named by the pastor of the South End chapel, Rev. D. G. Miller, to construct a church on Williams Street.

The group was comprised of Samuel Johnson, F. B. Reed, S. S. Hollenberger, G. M. Reed, R. L. Couter, J. H. B. Mahaney and the pastor.

Property was purchased on Williams Street from Johnson, Walsh and Stewart, and with a donation of $250 and a loan of $800 the Sunday School rooms were started.

The cornerstone was laid in October 1882 with Rev. G. W. Hobbs, presiding elder, officiating. Rev. Mr. Miller was appointed pastor of Kingsley Church at this time.

On March 25, 1883, the Sunday School rooms were opened. June 2, 1884, the audience room was used for worship services for the first time by the congregation, which had been using the Sunday school facilities.

On June 6, four days after the church building was completed, the parsonage located next door was ready for occupancy by the pastor and his family.

Evans said the Honor Club Award is presented to clubs earning specified point quotas in the fields of membership, life membership, sponsoring new clubs, for entering the district boys' oratorical contest and for reporting on boys' work activities.

You Wouldn't Guess It From Statistics

Arkansas has the lowest percentage of Negroes in all six states of the Deep South. In the 1950 census the Negro population was 22.3 per cent. It was higher in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi (highest) and South Carolina. In Little Rock, the capital and geographical center of Arkansas, the Negro percentage (23 per cent) is about the same as in the rest of the state and is lower than in any other city of the Deep South with 100,000 or more residents.

The proportion of Negroes in Arkansas is higher in the eastern than in the western part of the state. Among cities in the western part that have desegregated is Fort Smith. The University of Arkansas, at Fayetteville in the northwest, has admitted Negroes for some years.

Some more statistics: The typical (median) white person in Arkansas over 24 years of age has had 8 3/4 years of schooling, his Negro counterpart, 5 1/2 years. The figure for whites is about the same as in the rest of the Deep South except Mississippi, where it is higher. But the number of years of school attended by Negroes is a little higher than in any other Deep South state. Arkansas spends less per pupil on public schools and teachers' salaries than any other state except Mississippi.

So the outbreak of mob violence in Little Rock and the drastic measures which have been used to bring it under control cannot be laid to a preponderantly large percentage of Negroes. Neither can it be laid to a relative lack of education, for Little Rock ranks higher quantitatively than most cities in the South and many in the North.

From the statistical picture no one could have predicted Little Rock as the scene of the most serious mob violence over school integration.

These Days

Universal Bombs

The London Disarmament Conference to which Harold Stassen was sent has failed. That was inevitable. It would be wiser not to hold conferences which are bound to fail. The United Nations Disarmament Committee has been meeting since 1954 and has held 157 sessions. Since March 18, 1957, it has met 81 times. What has come of it? Nothing.

The point of it all was clearly set forth in Henry L. Roberts' remarkable book, "Russia and America," in which he says:

"While the American stockpile of bombs is estimated to be considerably larger, the ingredients for the creation of the thermonuclear bomb, triggered by an atom bomb, appear to be relatively inexpensive. Both the United States and the Soviet Union are probably capable of delivering on target several hundred atomic bombs by piloted aircraft; within a relatively short time they could probably deliver an even greater number of both atomic and thermonuclear bombs. The number of aircraft capable of two-way missions (with or without air refueling) is currently greater in the United States, even though the Soviet development and production of intercontinental heavy jet bombers have been considerably more rapid than anticipated . . ."

Soviet Russia's advantage can come, not from disarmament but from neutralizing American bases outside of the United States. If Soviet Russia can succeed in neutralizing the entire Arab world from the border of Iran to the Atlantic Ocean, it can reduce the value of our bases in Saudi Arabia and in North Africa. If, by propagandistic endeavors, it can stimulate ill-will between the United States and Great Britain, it could happen, under a Labour government, that we might lose our bases in Great Britain.

Some of this danger, of which all responsible persons must be aware, can be offset by technological improvements, particularly in the development of missiles, but it must be recognized that in such an arms competition as now engages all the world, no industrial power, with ready access to raw materials, is long far behind in technology.

Roberts, in his study, makes the same point as I do. He says: "... Moreover, American overseas bases are much closer to the major Soviet targets than Soviet bases are to the United States. With the completion of the American early warning network, this advantage in overseas bases could make it possible, even if the Soviets initiated an attack, for American planes to reach major Soviet targets before Soviet planes could reach American targets. The advantage, of course, rests on the very important condition that the United States enjoys the right to use these bases which are not on American soil."

What this discussion comes down to is that it is not to the advantage of Soviet Russia to agree to any form of disarmament at the present time. The advantage goes to the United States. Therefore, it is not to be expected that Soviet Russia will agree to anything. The question might be asked, why do the Russians press for conferences and use up valuable time attending them?

The answer is that the Russians have discovered that they are very good at international propaganda and that the United States does not begin to understand this particular art. American skill is in advertising commodities which we do better than anybody. We have learned how to sell the needed, unneeded and the unwanted.

But we have no skill in transmitting ideas. We even permit the Russians, through their Communist parties, to steal our ideas, to twist them, to confuse us. For instance, take the word, democracy, which we thought was ours but they have made it theirs, although they do not believe in this idea or practice it. We have the least class-conscious social system in all the world; the Russians have a class system which is almost as rigid as the Indian caste system. Yet, in most countries of Europe, Asia and Africa the people believe that Russia is a classless society while ours is a stratified society.

The Russians are particularly skillful in handling the lie which to them becomes the truth because they say it. These propaganda efforts have the efficacy of battles in a fighting war because what they accomplish is to move the position of nations and create new fields of attack. For instance, the subjugation of Syria is a major Soviet victory, as great as our success in the Battle of the Bulge.

Ike's Use Of Federal Troops Unconstitutional

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's threat to use "whatever force may be necessary to prevent any obstruction of the law and to carry out the orders of the federal court" presents America with her gravest internal crisis since the Reconstruction era.

It's a Constitutional crisis in which the law advisers of the President apparently have boldly sought to bypass the state of Kansas itself and to declare the people of that area in what amounts to a state of insurrection.

For federal court orders are not usually enforced by federal troops. They are enforced by U. S. marshals with warrants for the arrest of specifically named individuals who flout the authority of a court or its injunction decrees. To send federal troops into any area without a request from a governor or the state legislature violates the Constitution. To call out a federal order the militia of a state except to put down "insurrection" also violates the Constitution. Do the President's advisers mean to issue a proclamation telling the whole world that an "insurrection" has broken out in America?

The President's statement says, "it will be a sad day for this country — both at home and abroad—if school children can safely attend their classes only under the protection of armed guards." But can they attend them amicably even then? Can federal troops overnight erase the bitterness of parents, reflected in the attitudes of their children, and compel harmony where there is already a highly emotional discord?

The President would have been better advised to have asked the governor of Arkansas to close the schools to all children for a cooling-off period during which the processes of reason and moral suasion could have been brought to bear as the rights of the states and of the community were argued out in the federal courts.

As it is, the people in Arkansas are confused. They want to obey the Constitution. But the Constitution says that Congress passes the laws. No law has been passed forbidding segregation. The people of Arkansas, through their Senators and Representatives in Congress, have had no opportunity to express themselves on whether or not segregation shall be forbidden by law.

The Supreme Court of the United States, of course, has spoken and says that no state shall retain any law that compels segregation. But having said this, there is no formula for dealing with the problem by specific laws. The Fourteenth Amendment itself says that Congress alone shall pass legislation to "enforce" the amendment. This has never been done.

In the absence of any laws that spell out what can or cannot be done, the federal courts have introduced a novel experiment—what is known as "continuing jurisdiction." This means that a federal judge writes the so-called "laws" as to what is or is not

America's Sixth Fleet Stabilizing Influence In Mediterranean Area

(Drew Pearson is reporting from the eastern Mediterranean.)

By Drew Pearson

ABOARD THE USS SALEM, FLAGSHIP 6th FLEET, Sept. 25—There was a day, shortly after the first Bikini bomb test, when the strategists figured that navies were outdated and that Uncle Sam's fleet would sail the seven seas no more.

Today just the opposite is true. With Moscow well ahead of the British as the second navy in the world and with a submarine fleet far bigger than ours, the U. S. Navy has become more important than ever.

Flying over the 6th Fleet, fanned out in the blue waters of the Mediterranean, watching both fighters and bombers take off from the deck of the Franklin Roosevelt every few minutes in practice maneuvers toward satellite countries, you get a sense of security and can understand why our Mediterranean allies appreciate its presence.

Various Greek, Turkish and Israeli officials expressed to me their satisfaction over the 6th Fleet. The Governor of Rhodes even remarked that two visits per year by part of the fleet balanced the island's economy. In Athens, I noted that the arrival of seven American ships was greeted enthusiastically.

Marines By Helicopter

To see how the fleet really operates, however, I flew first aboard the carrier Roosevelt, then the flagship USS Salem, 21,000-ton cruiser which juts up out of the Mediterranean like a traveling rock of Gibraltar.

The fleet's personnel were busy preparing for a unique and highly important NATO maneuver on the Turkish coast — namely the marine landing by both helicopter and small boat.

For this maneuver, NATO commanders picked Saros Bay, a thin finger of water in European Turkey just a few miles from Greece.

This is one of the most strategic spots in the world. Directly across to the south is the Dardanelles, whose beaches still bear the bleached bones of British ships, remnants of Churchill's and Lord Kitchener's tragic Gallipoli landing where thousands of British troops lost their lives trying to storm Turkey in World War I.

A few miles away to the north, Alexander the Great marched his legions to conquer the Persians. Further south the Crusaders from France and England stormed Moslem shores in a 100-year effort to take the holy places of Christ away from the infidels.

This is the crossroads of east and west.

It is the crossroads which Russia must take to dominate the Mediterranean, which the Czars coveted for a hundred years and which present rulers of the Kremlin not only covet but seem determined to dominate.

Already the Soviet has three potential submarine bases — Albania, Egypt, and Syria — and the fleet recently sighted a Russian cruiser-destroyer force en route from Albania to Syria. When hailed by the Salem, the Russian ships didn't return the courtesy of the sea. Three Egyptian subs, attached to the Egyptian fleet, are one more than the subs in the 6th Fleet.

Further north, in the Black Sea, Russia has three times the naval strength of the 6th Fleet. Just why she keeps it bottled in the Black Sea remains a mystery.

James "Fighting Ships" also lists Russia as having twenty 15,000-ton cruisers of the Sverdlov class, all newer than the Salem, plus seven heavy cruisers, plus excellent new destroyers and over 500 submarines, mostly new.

For the first time since the war, Russian ships have been venturing from the Baltic and Black Seas and cruising in the Mediterranean and Atlantic. In brief, the Russian Navy is now breaking out of its cocoon.

In Saros Bay, therefore, a strategic neck of old Europe not far from the Russian Black Sea fleet, 2,000 Marines and 75 U. S. vessels will stage the first full helicopter amphibious landing ever seen in Europe.

At Varava in World War II, 200 Marines were lost in rough seas. Heavy shelling by Japanese shore batteries at Iwo Jima caused more Marines to be lost in a desperate hand-to-hand struggle for the beachhead.

But in this operation, helicopters will fly 1,000 Marines, eight men per helicopter, over the heads of the enemy to attack from the rear, while other Marines attack from landing boats. Turkish army support will be given from land. The maneuver will be watched by NATO allies, and unofficially but probably with greater curiosity by Russians from a distance of the Black Sea.

People-To-People Friendship

Keeping our NATO allies happy and cooperative requires understanding on the part of naval personnel and wisdom on the part of the commander. Fortunately, Adm. Charles R. Brown, Commander 6th Fleet, has these qualities. He's operating not only a fighting force but a floating embassy of goodwill.

His policy is to encourage European newsmen to come aboard and see how the 6th Fleet is defending Europe. Every crew before going ashore is reminded that a sailor is the individual representative of his country. Result — unpleasant incidents have been almost nil, pleasant incidents many.

When crippled children from the Pipka orphanage came aboard from Athens last week, the ship's crew not only gave them ice cream and cake, but, without saying a word to Capt. Francis T. Williamson, skipper of the Salem, the crew dipped into their pockets and collected $450. They did this just at a time a sailor appreciates money most — when he is about to get shore liberty. When Captain Williamson was about to discard worn mattresses he consulted the Greek Red Cross, which was glad to get 400 of them.

Here is part of a directive which Admiral Brown sent to the fleet regarding the importance of people-to-people friendship: "In port our mission is to promote international friendship. Peace is marked by such things as goodwill, understanding, cooperation."

From my observations, the Admiral's directive is being so carefully followed that the 6th Fleet has become as effective an arm for peace now as it could be for the war it's prepared to fight but may help to prevent.

The Feds Move In

By Bob Considine

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(INS)—

This city was as quiet as a mouse the night it was occupied by federal troops. Elements of the 101st Airborne Division, from Fort Campbell, Ky., entered without opposition or the firing of a shot and after a time began patrolling the darkened grounds of Central High School. Half a block away, under scalding bright lights, a junior varsity football game was being played before almost empty stands, and the thin chants of aficionados sounded through the night. The troops were in full battle gear, somber as the night.

"We're got a technical problem here," a reporter said to two of them as they paced back and forth on the side lawn, the barrels of their guns jutting like rugged antennae. "Are airborne troops paratroops?"

"We can't answer," a boy said, his chin moving firmly in the leather chin strap that bound his glinting helmet to his head.

There would be a long night ahead, but the worst would be the dawn and what it might present.

That's what it was like the night Little Rock fell to the Feds.

The integration problem — toughest Constitutional nut to crack since 1861 — comes in many forms, many faces. On the first plane leaving New York in the direction of Little Rock after the federalization of Faubus's Irregulars, sat Robert Montgomery. He was headed for Washington, the first stop.

The former film star had been summoned, as usual, to supervise the President's TV appearance, the speech "from the House of Lincoln" in Gettysburg, might have wondered if reason was tottering, if he had been approached just before going on and tested by cameraman, cosmetician and Kleigh lighter. ("We'll have to lighten up that beard a bit, Abe.") The world changes, and one of its changes is not only the existence of television but the medium's rules and regulations which keep it aloof of the message it impacts, be it in reference to soap or segregation.

This is not without reason. If Ike had been amateurishly presented, his momentous words would not have reached their marks. The performance had to be right and sure. Hence the hurried call from Newport to New York. Hence the presence on the plane of a first class prod and gentleman, Montgomery.

It would be interesting to take a poll of Negroes of school age in the South and discover how great is the percentage of those who do not want to integrate in previously all-white schools.

Surface indications say it would be a large percentage. Only a tenth of the Negroes eligible to matriculate this year at Central High reported for school. The others have gone off to the city's modernistic Horace Mann High, all Negro.

Gov. Frank Clement's Negro maid, who has two teen-age daughters, said to him just after the bombing of the Nashville school, "I've worked hard for you and Mrs. Clement, haven't I?"

The Governor of Tennessee said, with surprise, "Why, of course. You've been a wonderful worker and nobody appreciates it more than we do, as you know. Why do you ask?"

"Because I would work eight times harder than I have in the past if it meant I could keep my girls out of a white school," she said. "They're good enough to go to any school, and I'd like them to know that and have folk recognize that. But I just don't want them to go to a white school, and I never will."

The pilot on the plane that brought us here strolled back among the swarm of reporters and cameramen aboard and said, laconically, "You Northern fellows give a one-sided picture of the Little Rock problem. We've got to read the papers down South to get the truth."

Phlebitis Caused By Sluggish Circulation

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Inflammation of a vein (phlebitis) was a common aftermath of surgery a quarter of a century ago. It had nothing to do with the operation itself but resulted from the subsequent prolonged bed rest. The blood flow became sluggish and the ensuing stagnation encouraged clots to form.

Early ambulation minimizes this complication by keeping the circulation awake. When the appendix is removed, the patient is encouraged to sit on the side of the bed within 24 hours after leaving the operating room. He is up and about after a few days and may leave the hospital by the end of a week. When I was an intern, appendectomy patients stayed in bed two weeks and were not allowed to move during the first 10 days. The modern surgeon has more confidence in his stitches.

Phlebitis has other origins that are unrelated to surgery. Inflammation may follow an unusually active sport, such as a long hike by a person who doesn't walk much. Conversely, an active individual sitting for a long time in a boat while fishing may develop a clot in a vein. The condition is common in older persons, especially the inactive who sit for hours in a chair with the legs in a dependent position.

Try And Stop Me

To ballyhoo a college movie with a Yale background, a press agent hired a man to lead a bulldog around sedate New Haven with a blue sweater and a big "Y" on it, plus a "Y" pipe in its mouth. Many students hooted the stunt and comparatively few attended the movie. So the press agent got sacked. He didn't give up easily. "I still think it was a great idea," he insisted. "But you know what went wrong? You gave me the ugliest bulldog I ever saw!"

SUPER VOLTAGE

H. W. writes: What does the cobalt treatment of cancer consist of?

REPLY

If you refer to the cobalt 60 bomb, this equipment is capable of giving off as much supervoltage radiation as the 2 to 3 million volt X-ray generators. The effects of the beam are the same as those of X-ray but the cobalt equipment is not as costly to buy and maintain. Because there is less dispersion of rays the treatment spares the surrounding normal tissues.

NOT THE HEART

H. M. writes: This may sound silly but when I drink anything extremely hot or cold, I feel discomfort in my heart. Can you explain?

REPLY

The sensation is felt in the esophagus and upper stomach, and not the heart, which is the next door neighbor of these structures.

SHAPE OF HEAD

Mrs. W. writes: Can an 11 month old baby's head be made symmetrical by massage? One side is flattened from sleeping on it all the time.

REPLY

No. Encourage the child to sleep on the other side and in time the condition will correct itself.

EXCESS WEIGHT

M. W. writes: Are obesity and overweight the same?

REPLY

No. An individual might be overweight because of overdeveloped muscles or an accumulation of fluid in the tissues (dropsy). In obesity, the added pounds are due to the accumulation of fat.

TOMORROW: The smog hazard.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis, or prescribe for individual diseases.

Hill Topsy, 8-1 Shot, Cops Legion Trophy At Fairgo

Singing Bush Nosed Out In Feature Race

Mizar Returns $21; Small, Servis Win Pair; $173,451 Bet

An 8 to 1 shot won the feature race by a nose. Jockeys Sammy Small and Joseph Servis booted home a pair of winners each and the best turnout of fans this season, approximately 4,000 wagered $173,451 yesterday on American Legion Day at Fairgo.

Hill Topsy, a 4-year-old Hill Prince filly, owned and trained by Louis E. "Mandy" Torreyson, of Washington, D. C., with Small in the saddle, edged the favored Singing Bush to earn the major portion of the $1,100 purse in the 7th and main event—The American Legion Trophy—and rewarded her backers with $18.60 for each $2 win mutual ticket. Gold Prize finished in third place in the mile and a sixteenth test.

Torreyson was the recipient of a savings bond which was presented by Harold Davis, commander of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13. The latter introduced Phil Fleming, Maryland Department commander's aide who was pinch-hitting for John W. Sloan, state commander.

Small Has Two In Row

The win aboard Hill Topsy was the second straight of the afternoon for Stanley Small, who also had a leg up on Mrs. June G. Hawley's Mizar, who decided Sanctionious in the 6th and paid off to the tune of $10 for each two bucks played on the nose. Sanctionious returned an $11.40 mutual to place while Daddy Darling, first choice of the bettors, showed at $2.80, in the $1,000 event that was contested over the route of one mile and a sixteenth.

Jockey Joe Servis moved with-in one win of Anthony Russo, the leader, by registering with a pair—James P. Simpson's Cool ($9.40) in the third and Mrs. George A. "Babe" Saportas' Fast Pin ($7.40) in the final number. They were the second and third wins of the meeting for Servis. Russo is setting the pace with four mizars.

Mizar Returns $21

The best payoff of the day came in the opener when Otto Crescent's Mizar, ridden by Apprentice Floyd Gibson, scored by a length over Ace Drum, who finished in the fore of Broom Party, the favorite. The DeCrescent breeder returned $21, $8.80 and $4.60 for win, place and show.

Those who purchased daily double tickets on Nos. 8 and 2 received $142.80 each, the second best price of the meeting. Maryland Lady survived a foul claim, the first in three days of racing here, to annex the second race, and was coupled with Mizar as the winning double duo. The objection was lodged by Jockey Anthony Franciotti, who rode Sun Brandy, the place horse. He claimed the foul against Patsy Grant, on Maryland Lady, occurred as the sprinters entered the stretch but the objection was disallowed by the stewards. Maryland Lady, incidentally, was the only favorite to score on the eight-race card. Bettors collected $6.20 as a result of her five panels victory dash.

Yesterday's daily double pool of $18,184 exceeded that of Monday and Tuesday.

McGovern Tossed Again

At the conclusion of the fourth race, Jockey Tommy McGovern was tossed by Sly Reply, and appeared badly shaken up. He was assisted from the track and cancelled his riding engagements in the sixth and eighth races. It was the second time in as many days that McGovern hit the turf. He was dumped by Court Hoy rear the starting gate in the first event on Tuesday.

Ray Mikonen posted his second win of the season when he rode Lyle K. Benson's Rhy Tint, to the wire by 1 1/4 lengths ahead of the favored Friendly game in the third. The Rhymer's filly paid $8.60.

Miss Skin Skin's won by a neck from Nashuette, the favorite in the fifth under the careful guidance of Earl Phelps, who chalked up win No. 1 at this meeting. John J. Young's 3-year-old filly paid off at $8 for $2.

Betting Goes Up

The mutual handle of $173,451 topped that of the third day in 1956 by $15,776. The three-day wagering total of $472,576 is running $16,099 less than the handle for the corresponding period a year ago. Yesterday's betting exceeded that of the first two days by $32,689 and $15,088, respectively.

Durelle Gets Nod

DETROIT, Sept. 25 (INS) — Yvon Durelle of New Brunswick and Montreal, Canada, won a unanimous decision over Willi Besmanoff of Munich, Germany, tonight in a 10-round nationally televised boxing bout at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Midway during the first Princeton-Yale football game in 1873 the football burst. The game was delayed a half hour before the players could locate another ball.

"MANDY" GETS LEGION TROPHY — Louis E. "Mandy" Torreyson, of Washington, D. C., saddled the winner in the 7th race yesterday at Fairgo and after his Hill Topsy, with Stanley Small up, edged Singing Bush, the favorite, over the route of one mile and a sixteenth, he was presented a savings bond by Commander Harold Davis, of Fort Cumberland Post No. 13.

Al Abrams, of Pittsburgh, national president of Dapper Dan Clubs, will present a trophy to the owner of the winning sprinter in the 7th race today on the fourth day of the Cumberland Fair Association's 12-day race meeting.

This is the ninth year for the running of the Dapper Dan Trophy Race, sponsored by the local chapter of which William V. Keegan is president.

The sixth race on the card is the Al Abrams, named in honor of the sports editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

George Dixon, nationally known columnist, will be at the races Friday as a guest of Senator J. Glenn Beall, president of the Cumberland Fair Association. Dixon is the author of "Washington Scene," the widely read column appearing in the Cumberland Evening Times.

Rep. James P. S. Devereux, of the Second Maryland District also will be at Fairgo tomorrow. Next week Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore will be here Thursday, J. Millard Tawes, Maryland comptroller, will be a visitor Friday and Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will be Senator Beall's guest on Friday.

If the daily double combination of 8-6 had won yesterday the payoff would have been $2,666.80. Mizar (No. 8) won the first race but Extra Guest (No. 6) ran out in the second.

Al Cadeau, chartmaker for the New York Telegraph, carries a picture around with him in a Miami baseball uniform in a sliding pose. It creates a chuckle because Al is shown sliding into a tree—not a base.

Starter Eddie Blind is preparing for the season.

Discovery 'Cap To Ben Lomond

Ararco Is Aboard Victor In Feature

ELMONT, N. Y., Sept. 25 (AP)—Mrs. John R. H. Thouron's Ben Lomond turned on the power in the stretch to win the 13th running of the $30,650 Discovery Handicap at Belmont Park today.

The 3-year-old son of Alycidon-Phaetonia, ridden by Eddie Ararco, scored by a length and three quarters in the good time of 1:49 1/5 for a mile and a furlong.

The Ogden Phipps' entry of Harmonizing and Bureaucracy ran two, three, the former a neck ahead of his stablemate. A head out of the money came William Haggin Perry's Georgian Prinz. Maine Chance Farm's Winged Mercury cut out a hot pace with Bureaucracy right alongside in the run down the backstretch and around the first turn. Georgian Prinz moved up to challenge on the inside and Ben Lomond on the outside as the field hit the top of the stretch. From that point, Ben Lomond drew out gradually to win going away.

Big disappointment in the race was Louis Lee Haggin 2nd's Mantau, winner of the Ohio Derby. He was never in contention.

Ben Lomond, a member of the mutual field that included Cain Hoy Stable's One-Eyed King and Ethel D. Jacobs' Promised Land, was third choice in the wagering, returning across the board mutuels of $13.00, $5.80 and $4.20. The Phipps entry of Bureaucracy and Harmonizing paid $4.10 to place and $4.60 to show.

Calumet Farm set a new record at Hialeah last winter with $247,375 in purses. Calumet had set the previous high of $173,675 at the Florida track in 1956.

Cards Stop Braves, 4-1

Four Runs In 8th Decide Contest

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 25 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals staged a four-run rally in the eighth inning to day for a 4-1 victory that snapped the Milwaukee Braves' eight-game winning streak.

The Cards' triumph, behind the pitching of Lindy McDaniel and Lloyd Merritt, enabled St. Louis to salvage the final game of the three-game series that saw the Braves clinch the 1957 National League pennant. A ladies' day crowd of 25,328 saw the game. Right-handed Bob Buhl, trying for his 19th victory against six losses, was the victim, yielding eight hits, McDaniel achieved his 15th decision against nine losses and his third win over the Braves in four starts this season.

The Braves' scored their lone run in the fifth on a single by Del Rice, an error by Don Basingame on Buhl's ground ball, and sacrifice flies by Red Schoendienst and Johnny Logan.

Buhl, who had won nine games in a row since July 14, had a two-hit shutout going until the eighth inning when the roof caved in on him, the Cards scoring four runs on six hits.

Malzone Hits Two Homers As Red Sox Beat Senators, 7-6

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 (AP)—Frank Malzone hit his second homer of the game to open the eleventh inning and give Boston a 7-6 victory over Washington today. Ike Delock, third Red Sox pitcher, then nipped a closing Senator threat to preserve his ninth win.

In addition to Malzone, Jackie Jensen and Jim Piersall also connected for the Red Sox, while Art Schult and Harmon Killebrew hit homers for the Senators.

Malzone's second blast, off loser Camillo Pascual, gave him a total of four runs batted in and boosted his season total to 103 to match Jensen. The Senators' Roy Sievers leads the league with 112.

Boston got away to a 4-0 lead in the third when Piersall and Malzone homered. The Senators rebounded with four runs off Tom Brewer in the fifth, when Schult hit a solo homer and Bridges inserted a two-run double.

Patrol Cars Remain On Job At Deale, Md.

DEALE, Md., Sept. 25 (AP)—Anne Arundel County Police Chief Wilbur C. Wade said today he has no intention of removing police cars from the Deale area until he is satisfied racial strife there has ended.

He made the comment in reply to a request by the Deale Chamber of Commerce that state and county police cruisers quit the area because they are hurting business there. "We feel there is no trouble in this area," the chamber resolution said.

Wade said three detectives assigned to Deale to try to learn who was responsible for breaking of windows in an integrated first grade class room and burning a cross in front of a Negro doctor's office would continue on the job.

He said the county also would keep on station the two police cruisers now patrolling the area. One ordinarily is assigned to that section.

"I have a job to do," Wade said, "and I am not going to let anyone bluff or scare me."

Major William H. Weber, executive officer of the Maryland State Police, said his department has only one cruiser working there although at one time it had four. He said one car normally is assigned to that area of southern Anne Arundel County and would stay there.

A Deale resident said at the chamber hearing that there were seven state police cars around the town.

Meanwhile, at Annapolis, a full-page advertisement bearing the names of 162 persons identified as Deale residents appeared in today's Evening Capital. It stated their belief that "the peace, good order, welfare and future of our country, state and nation lies in segregation of the races."

The ad accused Gov. McKeldin of making "defamatory and insinuating remarks" in connection with the anti-integration acts here which forced the withdrawal of a 6-year-old Negro boy from a white school.

It said he was "trying to cram integration down the throats of the people of Maryland" and accused him of "trying to gain the limelight and promote his own political aspirations by bidding for the large colored vote of Baltimore City."

The governor has indicated he would like to run for mayor of Baltimore in 1959.

Maryland Names Flu Committee

Members of the newly organized State Influenza Planning Committee have been appointed by Dr. Edward Davens, acting director of the State Health Department.

The group consists of 29 representatives appointed by 17 organizations in the state. "The function of this group is to develop and carry out a plan which will make maximum use of all existing community resources for medical and nursing care, pharmaceuticals, hospital and home care, and laboratory services," he explained.

Cards of Thanks

KELLER — The family of the late Earl Keller wishes to thank their sincere appreciation to all their friends, relatives and neighbors for their many expressions of sympathy in cards, letters, telegrams, floral tributes and the donation of cars for use at the funeral. MRS. RELIA KELLER and Children

In Memoriam

In memory of Thomas A. Dickey Jr. who passed away 3 years ago today.

I cannot say, and I will not say that he is dead. He is just away! With a cheery smile and a wave of hand he has wandered into an unknown land. Think of him faring on, as dear in the love of there, as the love of here. Think of him still as the same. I say, he is not dead—he is just away!

Sadly missed by Mother and Sisters

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Good heavens! That was supposed to be for the egg man."

Questions to ask yourself today—if you're a mature woman who's missing the enjoyment of being well-dressed.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Come Of Age In Fashion

It's the woman past youth who makes the most mistakes in choosing her clothes—just when she has attained the mature sophistication that she needs to wear stunning clothes with distinction.

The reason may be that she doesn't know her type, wears what is too young or too old for her, or keeps on wearing colors and tailors that suited her earlier although she's changed too much to wear them well now.

I think there may also be another explanation. I believe that these same women make some of their mistakes because they underestimate themselves. If many women would only believe how handsome they could look without their youth and make every effort to look that way through clothes and grooming, how much more self-confident, successful and charming they'd be.

If you think that what's just been said may apply to you, sit down now and ask yourself these questions:

Ask Yourself

Do you enjoy new clothes and looking your best much less than you used to?

Do you find yourself buying similar styles year after year?

Do you pass by what attracts you most because you don't feel up to wearing it?

Are you wearing your clothes too long without buying anything new?

Is the quality of what you wear worthy of the person you are?

How long has it been since you splurged on something really important to wear?

Isn't it about time you took a long, calculating look at yourself and re-evaluated your possibilities to determine what will most become you as you are, right at this moment? And isn't it about time you resolved to be beautifully turned out ALL the time, whatever your budget, and to be the best groomed woman you know?

Market Drops To Lowest Level Since October, 1955

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 (AP)—The stock market suffered another sharp break today which more than wiped out yesterday's advance and dropped the market to its lowest level since October 1955.

But there were signs of a feeble comeback at the finish.

With the tape running as much as three minutes behind actual transactions on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, a number of favorites started to rally just before the closing bell.

At the finish, the Associated Press 60-stock average was down $2.40 at $164.90.

After a slow start, trading gained momentum in the final hour and lifted total volume for the day to 2,770,000 shares.

Bethlehem Steel was the most active stock, down 3/4 at 41 1/4 on sales of 49,400 shares. Next came General Motors, down 3/4 at 39 1/4 on 46,000 shares, and U. S. Steel down 1 1/2 at 60 on 41,600 shares.

Chrysler was the fourth most active issue, off 1 1/2 at 72. Next came Jersey Standard, down 3/4 at 58 1/4. Gulf Oil down 3/4 at 129 1/4, and Curtiss-Wright which resisted the trend and advanced 1/4 at 33 1/2.

Others among the most active included Royal Dutch off 3/4 at 49 1/4, General Dynamics off 1/4 at 50 1/4, Boeing Airplane off 1/4 at 36 1/4, New York Central off 1/4 at 23 1/4, and Westinghouse Electric off 1/4 at 60.

Also on the losing side were Lukens Steel 2 1/4 at 86 1/4, Goodyear 2 1/4 at 90, Allied Chemical at 77, and Union Carbide 1 1/2 at 106 1/4.

Police To Meet Union Official On Wednesday

Officers To Seek Bi-Weekly Pays

A meeting of members of the Cumberland Police Department and a representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees has been scheduled for Wednesday, October 2, at 7:30 p. m. at the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street.

The representative of the federation made the plans for a visit to Cumberland after more than 60 per cent of the department's employees petitioned for the meeting.

The principal phase of the agenda will concern working conditions of the department and higher pay under a no-strike contract.

Meanwhile, another petition is being circulated through the Police Department asking how many members wish their paydays to be every other Friday instead of the present program of paydays on the first and 16th of each month.

One officer said he felt he would be able to budget his income better if his paydays were spread only two weeks apart, even if it meant a correspondingly smaller pay each time.

The main objection to the present pay setup, said the patrolman, is that when the first or 16th of the month falls on Saturday, Sunday or a holiday, the payroll is made up either on Fridays or Mondays, sometimes making paydays as much as 17 days apart.

An example was pointed out for the two paydays for this month. Officers of the department received their first-of-the-month checks on August 30 because September 1 fell on Sunday and the following Monday was Labor Day. The next payday came on September 16, making 17 days between pays.

Many of the officers in the department have said they feel that a more uniform system would be for paydays to fall every two weeks, as in many industries, which pay their hourly workers every week or every two weeks.

Judge Refuses Inmate Habeas Corpus Writ

Chief Judge George Henderson has refused a plea for a writ of habeas corpus by an inmate of the Maryland House of Correction.

Edward J. Messick admits he was at various times given two three year sentences to be served consecutively. However he claims that for some reason he was required to serve the second sentence first, so that he is now being detained under the sentence which he says, should have been served first.

Judge Henderson asked the warden of the institution for the facts in the case and was advised that the inmate was received at the House of Correction on April 16, 1952, on commitment 1471 for a term of three years from April 1, 1952 and another commitment with three cases, (2845, 2846, and 2847) of three years each.

The terms, the warden said, were to run concurrently, but to begin at the expiration of sentence 1471. Messick was paroled June 7, 1954 and returned from parole on May 23, 1957, making a total of 1,081 days he was out on parole.

His order of revocation of parole states that he "is to be returned to the Maryland House of Correction and serve all other time owed on his original sentence as of the date he was granted parole," but that he was to be granted a re-hearing in December 1958. His original expiration date is March 22, 1960, but with the "industrial good time" he has earned up to this time his present expiration date is November 23, 1959.

Under the circumstances, according to the judge's opinion, the petition is without merit and the writ of habeas corpus was refused.

Glass Workers To Get 13-Cent Wage Increase

Boosts Slated For PPG Employees

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 25 (AP)—Production employees of the Libbey-Owens—Ford Glass Co. and Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. get a 13-cent hourly pay increase under an agreement reached today with the United Glass and Ceramic Workers Union.

The agreement, reached in negotiations in Chicago, covers the final year of a three-year contract which became effective in September of 1955. Affected are 11,000 Libbey-Owens-Ford workers, including 6,500 in Toledo; and 12,000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. workers.

Under the terms of the contract, the parties had the option of putting 5 cents hourly the third year of the pact into either a general wage increase or into fringe benefits exclusive of pensions. They chose the general wage increase.

In addition, an 8-cent cost-of-living allowance became effective today for the total of 13 cents. The Libbey-Owens-Ford employees are in Toledo and Rossford, Ohio; Ottawa, Ill.; Shreveport, La.; and Charleston, W. Va. The Pittsburgh Plate Glass employees are in Cumberland, Md.; Crystal City, Mo.; Mt. Vernon, Ohio; Henric, Va.; Creighton and Ford City, Pa.; and Clarksburg, W. Va. Minimum pay scales set at the beginning of the contract period ranged upward from $1.80 hourly in the lowest job classification.

Trials Scheduled Monday On Informations

Frostburg Man, Local Youth Held

Two persons are scheduled to be tried on Monday before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris on criminal informations filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

The idea of the meeting, Mr. Burke told Mayor Eves, is to get everyone involved together and to try to work out some plan to keep the plant in Cumberland.

He told Mayor Eves he had learned that Frostburg will be successful in its drive to raise $80,000 to finance the construction of a sewing plant in that city.

The union committee will include Mr. Burke, Harold Riggleman, state AFL-CIO vice president; Stanley Zorick, secretary-treasurer of the Western Maryland Labor Council; F. Patrick Allender, president of the area labor council, and James Stein, president of Rubber Workers Local 26, and a committee from the Garment Workers union which represents workers at the plant.

Albert Cole, 38, of Frostburg, is seeking immediate trial and is charged with assault with intent to rape a Frostburg woman on May 24.

A 14-year-old local boy will be tried on a charge of statutory house breaking on September 11 here, when he took $2.70 from a local woman, according to the criminal information filed by Paul M. Fletcher, state's attorney.

Edwin R. Lilya, criminal investigator for Allegany County, said last night the trials are set for Monday.

Cole was arrested in Uniontown on September 5 on a pickup issued by Maryland State Police and was returned to Allegany County the following day by Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator, and Tfc. Donald R. Wade, of the Maryland State Police at LaVale Barracks.

He is charged with assaulting the woman early on the morning of May 24 when she was returning from Miners Hospital, where a relative had died.

Authorities said Cole has a prior record including two terms in the Maryland Penitentiary. He waived extradition at Uniontown and was brought to the county jail here.

Mr. Lilya said the 14-year-old boy was arrested by city police following a theft spree on September 11 when he entered three local homes, taking a purse containing about $12 and identification papers, and a change purse containing money.

A waiver was obtained from Juvenile Court by Mr. Lilya, who took a statement from the boy.

The city levied $1,207,630 on property taxes in the current $2,005,860 budget.

The police and firemen's softball game is scheduled this evening at Penn Avenue field, beginning at 6 p. m.

The first meeting of the school year of the Ridgeley High School PTA will be held today at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Teachers will be in their homes for parent conferences at 7 o'clock.

The program theme for this year is "Meeting and Understanding Our Responsibilities in the Home, School and Community."

The subject of today's meeting will be "Understanding the PTA" and a panel of teachers and parents will discuss several points concerning the association.

Officers for the year are Mrs. Melvin Dawson, president; Mrs. Leon Hammond, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Baker, secretary, and Mrs. Joseph Nelson, treasurer.

Supervisors to Meet

The Allegany Soil Conservation District Supervisors will hold a regular meeting tomorrow at 8 p. m. in the office of Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, in the Court House. Floyd Buser is chairman of the group.

Garment Factory Move Under Study

Workers Seek To Keep Local Industry Here

At the request of Joseph V. Burke, state AFL-CIO vice president, Mayor Roy W. Eves yesterday arranged for a meeting Monday to discuss the future plans of the Cumberland Undergarment Company.

The conference is tentatively slated at 3:30 p. m. in City Hall and is to be attended by an AFL-CIO union committee, Mayor Eves and as many of the Council as can attend, officials of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce and its Industrial Promotion committee and Maurice Milberg, manager of the local garment plant.

Mr. Burke said workers of the plant want to see if something can be done to keep the plant in Cumberland.

He said the girls who work at the plant are upset at proposals for moving the sewing unit to Frostburg and report that not more than half of the some 325 workers will be able to move with the plant.

The idea of the meeting, Mr. Burke told Mayor Eves, is to get everyone involved together and to try to work out some plan to keep the plant in Cumberland.

Frostburg Ends Successful Drive For Building Fund

Frostburg has reached its quota of $80,000 in pledges to construct a factory building to house the Cumberland Undergarment Company, it was reported last night.

Mayor Joseph James has called a meeting for 8 o'clock tonight in the city hall, for the purpose of discussing plans for collection of the pledges and procedure plans in the development program.

Invited to the session, the mayor said, are members of the Frostburg Industrial Promotion Committee, the Frostburg Business Men's Association, all the workers who solicited pledges, members of service clubs and other interested organizations and all interested citizens.

Howard Shuman, one of the leaders of the Frostburg Industrial Promotion Committee explained that after publicity had been given two days ago that the quota had not been reached, an anonymous investor pledged $10,000, and a total of $2,500 was pledged by individuals yesterday.

When the drive seemed to have failed, $67,500 had been subscribed. The $10,000 anonymous pledge gave the drive a new lift and citizens rallied to complete the job, Mr. Shuman said.

Under present plans, the garment factory is to be built in Frostburg with the community funds, which the company plans to retire over a 20-year period. Donors will be issued bonds for their shares. These bonds will return interest at the rate of three per cent per annum.

Split Operation

The company is planning to establish a distribution center or warehouse in Cumberland.

Maurice Milberg, president of Cumberland Undergarment, and Franklin Ben, secretary-treasurer, clarified the split operation plan the firm has in mind.

The proposal to have a sewing plant in Frostburg and a central receiving, packing and shipping center in Cumberland will benefit both communities in the long run, they stated.

It is for the economic good of the company, they declared, that the operation be divided.

For the past ten years, the Cumberland facilities of the concern on Gay Street have housed the sewing section and the distribution center.

Consolidated Here

Goods made at the Rockwood, Salisbury and Cumberland plants have been consolidated here for sorting into orders, packaging and shipping.

This has been done under a handicap because of limited facilities and adverse conditions, Milberg and Ben pointed out.

The company has been working with the industrial development department of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce to select a site for the new receiving and shipping facilities in this city.

Yesterday, Milberg said, a site was chosen after checking several locations with Thomas W. Morris, director of industrial development for the chamber.

The local structure will be built to provide for expansion.

Remains In Area

The local site will be built so as to provide for expansion. From the standpoint of the city's economy, the Frostburg plant will still be in the Cumberland marketing area, they added.

The firm's officials said when the sewing operation is moved to Frostburg the jobs of those in the local plant are guaranteed, and the company is desirous of having them stay.

Transportation is an objection, from the employees, who live in Cumberland, but the officials pointed out that the firm has many workers who commute daily from Frostburg, Mt. Savage and other communities in that vicinity.

Cumberland Chamber of Commerce officials have said they are ready and willing to consider any proposal the company will make for its marketing center here.

Motor Vehicle Study Unit To Prepare Report

Driver Training Bill Is Prepared

The Legislative Council's Motor Vehicle Laws committee will meet in Baltimore next Wednesday to begin winding up its preparations for the 1958 General Assembly.

Del. Fred B. Driscoll, a member of the committee, said the study group will review a committee report which is now being drafted.

The final report is expected to urge two changes in the motor vehicle laws and make a number of traffic safety recommendations. It will be submitted late in October, he said.

One of the two bills which will be recommended, he said, would make driver training available in all public schools.

The training program would be financed by increasing the fees for a learner's permit from $1 to $5, with $4 of the new fee dedicated to financing the driver education program.

Such a plan, Mr. Driscoll said, would make the training available at no additional cost to taxpayers.

The other bill which the committee is expected to back calls for the revocation of a license for not less than 15 days upon two convictions on hazardous moving violations within 12 months, and a minimum revocation of 90 days if a driver is convicted of a similar violation within the succeeding year.

Del. Driscoll said the committee will make a number of traffic safety suggestions, but is expected to limit laws it will back to two, since the 1958 session will last only 30 days and be devoted to budgetary items and acute emergencies affecting the public welfare.

Rec Department Will Sponsor Bridge Class

The City Recreation Department has completed plans for a beginners' bridge class which will be held here early next month.

The 10-lesson course based on the Goren point system will begin Monday, October 7, at 8 p. m. in Central YMCA.

Mrs. Willa Wood, a member of the Western Maryland Bridge Association, will be instructor. She has been assisting C. C. De Haven, who is serving as instructor for the Maplehurst Bridge Club.

A small entry fee will be charged to cover the cost of materials needed for the classes.

Those who wish to register or obtain details of the course were asked to call the City Recreation Department at PA 2-7360.

Officials said the first 40 persons who register will be accepted for the course.

The class will be the sixth to be offered by the Recreation Department in the past two years.

PTA 'Flying High'

Miss Leona Myers, teacher at West Side School is showing Richard Weisman, a pupil, where her class stands in the Parent-Teachers Association membership drive. The poster, by Bruce Boyd, pictures an airport with 13 planes, numbered and named according to the classrooms and teachers. As the plane "takes off" and gains altitude, the pupils are able to see which room has the highest percentage of parents enrolled. The enrollment has reached 383 or approximately 75 per cent enrollment in PTA membership.
